Celebrating Resurrection Sunday

Queen Street Baptist Church observed Easter, Apr. 4, with a virtual worship service, the second time since in-person worship was suspended March of last year because of the COVID-19 pandemic.

As part of the seasonal celebration, the Morning Glory and Evening Glory prayers lines used Dr. Glenn Porter's book Journey With Jesus Through Lent for devotions. And QSBC partnered with The Chrysler Museum of Art to present the webinar: "From Heartache to Hallelujah!" The presentation featured Amber Garrett, Dr. Lloyd DeWitt and Pastor Porter. The lecture explored the Lenten season through an Afrocentric perspective, with readings, images and music.

COVID-19 Update

The church continues to assist the community in scheduling appointments for COVID-19 Vaccination Clinics.

Also, we must have a record of everyone who enters the church. There is a check in station inside the door when you enter from the parking lot. If you should use any other entrance, it is very important that you go to the check in point and follow the protocol. There you will find a short form to fill out, hand sanitizer station and a thermometer.

QSBC observes Pastoral Anniversary and Community Day

QSBC celebrated the 13th Pastoral Anniversary of Dr. Glenn E. & Mrs. Lisa Porter and Sons (Glenn Jr., Luke and Adam) on Sunday, Mar. 14. The guest preacher for the virtual event was the Rev. Dr. Bryant Taylor of California. A praise team accompanied Dr. Taylor.

In addition to the worship service, QSBC and Change for a Change held a Community Day. We were so blessed to have beautiful weather and great participation from the ministries of the church. The Helping Hand ministry prepared 100 delicious spaghetti dinners and bags of groceries for the community and church members.

Clothing from the clothes closet and from members were also distributed. The men of the church really showed up and volunteered wherever they were needed. Meals were also delivered to church members and others in need. We are truly "The Blessing on Brambleton Avenue" and we give God the glory for giving us the strength and wisdom to continue serving during these difficult times. — Sister Emily Land
